In order to subscribe to one or more of the free EPPO mailing lists and newsletters via the EPPO Global Database, the first step is to become a registered user of the database (free and simple procedure). Once you have created your account, you will just have to login when returning to Global Database and subscribe to the EPPO mailing lists and newsletters you are interested in.

Register on the EPPO Global Database (new user)

In order to register, please follow the following steps:

- Click on the 'register' button on the top right of the Database home screen.

- In the new page, please enter your details in the relevant fields.
